

ASPECTS REGARDING THE SLAVE, FEUDAL, CAPITALIST AND SOCIALIST MODE OF PRODUCTION MIIRORED IN C. DOBROGEANU-GHEREA'S WORKS

SUMMARY

In this article the author analyses the Romanian socialist theoreticians conception concerning the economic category of „Mode of production“ and his opinions about the main modes of production that have followed one another in the course of history.

Both the marxist coordinates of Gherea's thinking concerning the respective concepts and the original aspects of his opinions on the debated questions are revealed.

The value of Gherea's theses for the development of the Romanian socialist thinking, their role in the evolution from the premarxist socialist thinking to the marxist one are mentioned as well.